PHOTOGRAPHS –
REPRESENTATIVE FEDERAL CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTION AND FEDERAL PRISON CAMP

The following photographs depict typical conditions found at a recent-constructed medium-security Federal Correctional Institution and minimum-security prison camp. This facility was designed and constructed by and for the Federal Bureau of Prisons near the City of Welch in McDowell County, West Virginia and is representative of such facilities from the standpoint of design, layout, building materials, and similar features of FCI, prison camp and accompanying support facilities.
